DEDICATED TO

"SWEET GIRL GRADUATE,"

BY

FRANCES FREIOT GILBERT

PREFACE.

HOW many of the college and seminary girls of other days have regretted that they did not preserve a record of their interests and pleasures when students! Those days of bright hopes, freedom from serious responsibility, warm friendships, and enthusiastic enjoyments will always linger in the memory like a sweet savor, it is true, but how much more effectively if given tangible form!

The designer of this volume has realized that the conventional "Journal" is too dry and unattractive to be popular, despite its value, and that a record of school days should be characteristic and unique, to command attention, and as dainty and pleasing as possible, to make it worth keeping. It is believed that the result of her efforts will be welcomed now, and thankfully regarded in distant years. The title does restrict it to "college" girls, strictly speaking, but it will be valuable, as well as entertaining, for any who leave home as students.
